

Faculty Profile

 Randy S. Balaoro, CE, MM, PMP randy.balaoro@gmail.com	Mr. Randy is a Project Management practitioner in the private sector dealing with large-scale industrial plant projects, water utilities projects, tourism-related development projects, and call center fit-out projects. He is one of the key resource persons working with Mekong Institutes in areas of project management ranging from project design and planning to project monitoring and evaluation.
--	--

Training Organizing Team

 Ms. Phornphan Srikhatthanaprom Ms.C (Sustainable Development Planning) phornphan@mekonginstitute.org	Ms. Phornphan Srikhatthanaprom is currently working as a programme coordinator on Human Migration and Care under the Mekong Development Department, Mekong Institute. She holds Master of Science degree in Sustainable Environment Management from Mahidol University, Thailand and Bachelor of Art in Social Development Management from Khon Kaen University, Thailand. She has more than 10 years experiences working with civil society, universities, and the inter-government offices on providing capacity building to the workers and facilitating the social development events relating to the issues of human rights, women workers, project cycle management, and community leaders' capacity development. Additionally, she also had been responsible for the research works while working in those organizations. In 2010, she was the trainer of the Training of Trainers on Occupational Health and Safety for Women Workers in Cambodia. Working currently at Mekong Institute, she is responsible on curriculum design together with the team of resource persons and also facilitates the trainings and workshops related to Human Migration and Care as well as Project Cycle Management issues.

Ms.
Than Tha Aung
M.A (International Masters in ASEAN Studies)
thantha@mekonginstitute.org

Ms. Than Tha Aung is currently working as the program facilitator (Public Sector Reform) of Mekong Development Program, Mekong Institute which is based in Khon Kaen Province, Thailand. She has involved in a wide range of research and training activities focusing on public sector reforms related to decentralization, local economic development and migration management in Greater Mekong sub-region in the previous two and a half years. Prior to joining Mekong Institute, she read International Masters in ASEAN Studies at the Asia-Europe Institute, University of Malaya, Kuala Lumpur where she attained a Pass with Distinction. Before joining the master program, she worked as the social development worker in Myanmar for three years. Her key interest includes ASEAN regionalism, good governance, decentralization and ethnic politics in Southeast Asia.